NAC 697.550 Early surrender of defendant.

1. No bail bondsman may surrender a defendant back into custody without good cause before the time specified in the bond for the appearance of the defendant.
2. “Good cause” includes, but is not limited to:
  - (a) Information from a source credible under the circumstances that the defendant intends to fail to appear before the appropriate court at the date and time prescribed.
  - (b) Materially false information on the application of a defendant.
  - (c) An increase by the court in the amount of bail beyond sound underwriting criteria employed by the licensee.
  - (d) A material change in the collateral posted by the defendant or one acting on his behalf.
  - (e) A change of address or telephone number by the defendant made without giving reasonable notice to the licensee.
  - (f) Commission of another crime, other than a minor traffic violation, by the defendant while on bail.
  - (g) Failure by the defendant to appear in court at the appointed time.
  - (h) A finding of guilt against the defendant by a court of competent jurisdiction.
3. If a bail bond agent surrenders a defendant before the time specified in the bond, the agent shall, within 10 days after the surrender, complete and mail to the commissioner a statement concerning the surrender, including the information required on Form M-8C, available from the commissioner of insurance.
